PasteBoard XT changes the width and height of the pasteboard. This is similar to changing the pasteboard width percentage using the QuarkXPress application Preferences menu.

Select "Pasteboard Settings..." from the Utilities menu and enter a percentage of the document's page width and height to adjust the pasteboard. Note that the resulting height will be applied to all sides of the document page and will in fact widen a smaller pasteboard if the height is greater than the width.

Of course, the pasteboard plus the spread dimensions are always limited to a maximum of 48". Pasteboard XT will then automatically adjust the spread and page guidelines according to the new dimensions so that they remain relative to the page.

Macintosh

- Mac OS X v10.2 and higher
- PowerMAC G3 or higher
- QuarkXPress 6.x
